

ALLIANCE DEVELOPMENT

Alliance is the Perot Group’s industrial and business development centered on the air services provided by Alliance Airport. Towers|Golde has directly advised the developer and led the site design effort, with local landscape architects implementing the work.

Towers|Golde was a key contributor to the initial conceptual landscape plan which created project identity through a hierarchy of plant materials, signing, lighting, special features and amenities for entry spaces, traffic corridors, common spaces and recreational areas. T|G’s design for the gateway landscapes and the ceremonial trafficway to the Airport established a landscape quality prototype which became the basis of T|G’s subsequent Landscape Development Guidelines created for use by both individual owners and the developer’s design and construction group.
